2017 Australian Government ICT Apprenticeship Program

The Australian Government Information and Communication Technology (ICT) Apprenticeship Program targets students who are currently completing their Year 12 studies. As an apprentice you will complete an ICT qualification as well as work within an Australian Government agency in ICT related areas such as:

- IT general
- IT testing
- IT networking
- IT programming
- Software development
- Systems analysis and design.

Applications for the 2017 Program will open next week on Monday 27 June 2016. Visit http://www.australia.gov.au/ictentrylevel for more information. This website also has information about cadetships in ICT that students can apply for after they have completed one year of an undergraduate degree in ICT.

Cairns: Wednesday 29 June 2016 at 6 pm - Navy Careers Information Session at Defence Force Recruiting Cairns, Level 1, 55 Lake Street, Cairns. To book your spot, email your details to cptcairns@dfr.com.au.

See https://www.facebook.com/DefenceJobsAustralia/events for details about these information sessions. You can also find information sessions for the Army Reserve on this site.
School holiday career exploration

An important strategy in career exploration is experiencing the job you are interested in. This can be undertaken in a number of ways:

- Work observation - spending a day or more with someone already in the job at their workplace
- Career interview – developing a list of questions and interviewing someone already in a job you are investigating
- Work experience – spending some time (a week if possible) in the job
- Investigating courses by visiting institutions and talking to providers about their courses
- Getting a part-time job or volunteering in your job of interest
- Doing a course or workshop that relates to the type of work you want to do.

The school holidays are a perfect time to do some of these activities. If you need help organising an activity, speak to your school Guidance Counsellor/Officer.
2016 Hermitage Plant Science Competition

This competition is sponsored by the University of Queensland School of Agriculture and Food Sciences. As 2016 is the International Year of Pulses, the topic for this year’s competition is ‘My pulse rules’. There are two categories students can enter - Plant Science Project Awards (P-12) or the Art in Agriculture Awards (P-12). Visit https://www.daf.qld.gov.au/plants/field-crops-and-pastures/research/hermitage-competition/competition-details to read more about the competition. If you are interested in participating, talk to one of your teachers as you need to register for the competition through your school. Registrations close 24 June 2016.

RoboCup Junior Queensland Championship

RoboCup Junior is open to students studying at a primary or secondary level. Participants, usually in a team of two or more, create robots to meet the challenges in Dance, Rescue and Soccer. The 2016 events will run throughout Queensland and culminate at the RoboCup Junior Queensland State Finals to be held on 13 and 14 August at the University of Queensland. Regional event dates and details of each of the challenges are on the website at http://www.robocupjunior.org.au/qld.

UQ High School Economics Competition

Year 11 and 12 Economics students are invited to take part in the University of Queensland Student Economics Competition. Students take the 40 - item multiple choice test at school anytime between 25 - 29 July. The test covers current Economic events and core units of the QCAA Economics Syllabus. There are cash prizes for first, second and third-place students in Year 11 and 12. Talk to your Economics teacher about entering this competition. Register at http://www.qeta.com.au/event-2241997.
Australian Catholic University’s (ACU) University Experience

Places are filling fast for this event for students in Years 10 – 12 which will be held in the school holidays on Thursday 7 July 2016. If you're considering tertiary study for next year or in the future, University Experience provides the perfect chance to explore your study options by living a day in the life of an ACU student. Visit http://www.acu.edu.au/97108 for more information and to register.

Australian Industry Trade College (AITC) Information Sessions

AITC is a Queensland registered senior college. It offers accredited courses leading to the Queensland Certificate of Education. AITC students attend college in four-week modules and are in a work placement for the remainder of the term. The college will hold the following information sessions:

- 22 June 2016 at the AITC Gold Coast campus, Robina
- 28 June 2016 at the AITC Redlands campus, Cleveland.

Register to attend a session at http://www.aitc.qld.edu.au/register-now/.

Bond University Programs

September Semester Student for a Semester program - Year 11 and 12 students participating in this program can experience life as a university student as well as get a head start on their university studies before they finish high school. A pass in a Student for a Semester subject may provide credit towards a Bond undergraduate degree. In addition, students who successfully complete two subjects will be eligible for direct admission into most Bond degree programs at the end of their Year 12 studies. Some course restrictions do apply. Applications for the September 2016 semester open on 5 August 2016. Visit http://bond.edu.au/future-students/study-bond/see-yourself/student-semester for more information.

Ideas Camp - If you’re in Year 11 or 12 and dreaming of a career in business, you won’t want to miss this event. The Ideas Camp is a one-day business bootcamp designed exclusively for the next gen corporate adventurers. It will be held on Friday 5 August 2016 at Bond University. Visit https://bond.edu.au/ideas-camp for more information about the camp. You should advise your Guidance Counsellor/Officer if you are interested in attending the Ideas Camp.

Jobs that don’t exist yet, but will

The following list of jobs is from the ‘Careers Spotlight’ brochure produced by the University of Queensland (UQ). The brochure also has a list of the most in-demand jobs. You might be able to pick one up from the UQ stand at the Tertiary Studies Expo on the 16 and 17 July 2016 in Brisbane. As you read about these futuristic jobs, try to identify the skills needed to do them and how a person might acquire these skills.

Avatar Relationship Managers – Not quite like the blockbuster, avatar relationship managers will be responsible for developing appropriate online personalities to help conduct business activities like brainstorming and collaborating over the internet.

Crypto-Currency Regulators – With Bitcoin-esque currencies on the horizon as the future norm, it’ll be essential that the digital currency market is assessed and monitored.

Dimensionalist – 3D printing is still relatively in its infancy, however it’s being used more and more in the fields of engineering, medicine and manufacturing. There is already a huge demand for people with the ability to use this equipment, but there will also be a need for those who can apply multidimensional thinking to develop creative new ways to use 3D technology in the business world.

Computer Personality Designer – If you like technology and psychology, this could be the job for you. The future will see computers adopting more and more human qualities and there will be a need for professionals to ascertain the best human traits to inject into computers.

Big-Data Analyser – Thanks to our addiction to social media (and the internet in general), an unfathomable amount of data has been collected. Big-data analysers will be responsible for decoding it all, understanding what it means and translating it into methods for businesses to make confident decisions.

Unlocking Your Employability

In today’s world of work, employers are looking for much more that a qualification. You need to show a potential employer what you can offer beyond your credentials. The University of Queensland has developed a course to help you do this. It will help you understand what employability is and why it is important.
The course, ‘Unlocking Your Employability’, is free, although there is a fee if you want to receive a certificate. It consists of seven one-hour modules that you can complete at your own pace. Visit the edX website at Error! Hyperlink reference not valid. to read about the course.
Redkite Education Support Grants – the Dare to Dream Scholarships

If you are 15 - 24 years of age and have cancer or have survived cancer, you are invited to apply for this scholarship. As part of the application you are required to write about your dream, how cancer got in the way and how a Dare to Dream scholarship or grant could help you make it happen. Applications for the 2016 Dare to Dream Scholarship and Grant program are now open and will close on the 29 July 2016. Visit Error! Hyperlink reference not valid. for more information.

Term three – an important time for Year 12 students

Term three is a very important and busy time of the year for Year 12 students. If you haven’t already decided what you are going to do in 2017, this is the time to access information about the options available. The following is a selection of events and activities that will be held in term three to help you with your decision-making.

QTAC Guide – If you haven’t received this book yet, you will receive it at the beginning of Term three. It is produced by QTAC and contains information about the application process and the courses you can apply for. Don’t lose this book. You may need it after you leave school in November to change course preferences on your QTAC application.

Tertiary Studies Expo (TSXPO) - It will be held from 10 am – 4 pm on Saturday 16 and Sunday 17 July 2016 at Royal ICC, RNA Showgrounds, Brisbane. See the website at Error! Hyperlink reference not valid. for information about participating institutions, seminar presentation details and competitions.

Regional career expos – Many of these will occur in July and August. They provide a great opportunity to explore employment opportunities and further education and training options. See dates on the QTAC website at Error! Hyperlink reference not valid..

Institution open days - Most of the institution open days occur in Term three. Open days provide an opportunity to learn more about the institutions and courses in which you are interested. Make the most of open days by developing a list of questions to ask at the event. See open day dates on the QTAC website at Error! Hyperlink reference not valid..

QTAC applications open - QTAC early bird applications open on 2 August 2016. The application is online and costs $37. Students are strongly encouraged to apply by 30 September 2016 for tertiary courses commencing in Semester one 2018. Applications made after this date have a $138 fee. For information about the QTAC application process, see Section 1 of the 2016/2017 QTAC Guide and the QTAC website at Error! Hyperlink reference not valid..

Scholarships - Most university scholarship applications open in Term three and close in October, November or December. An exception is Bond University, which has its scholarship closing date on 31 July 2016. Every university has a section on its website about scholarships. Find out the application process and due date early to avoid missing out on a scholarship. If in doubt about your chances, apply anyway.
QCAA resources for Year 12 students

Want to know how to access your Learning Account and what’s in it, or how OP and FPs are calculated? The Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority (QCAA) produces a number of resources to help Year 12 students understand these important topics. The resources include:

Student Connect website at Error! Hyperlink reference not valid. - This is where you can access your Learning Account. Do this by 31 August 2016 to be in the draw to win a Surface Pro 4. The site also has information on further education and training, jobs and careers.

Student Connect magazine – You would have received this recently. You will get another one at the end of the year along with your final results. The magazine has lots of information about your senior studies, OPs, tertiary entrance, key dates, apprenticeships and more. If you have lost your copy, it can be downloaded at Error! Hyperlink reference not valid..

The following resources can be accessed from the QCAA website at Error! Hyperlink reference not valid.:

- OP Fast Facts – This brochure can answer all those worrisome questions you have about OPs e.g. If I do badly on the QCS Test will this affect my OP?
- Calculating OPs: The basic principles – This booklet will give you a general understanding of how OPs are calculated.
- Procedures for calculating OPs and FPs – This booklet is for those who want to know the technical ins and outs of calculating OPs.

Top tips to de-stress during exam block

The following tips are adapted from the University of Queensland’s Health Hub at [Error! Hyperlink reference not valid.].

With exam time upon us, we can no longer avoid the worry of looming deadlines and challenging expectations (our own and other’s). Everybody deals with stress differently so it is important to recognise your own signs and take control before they control you. The following behaviours can be signs of stress.

- Irregular sleep patterns
- Short temper and irritability
- That gut feeling (butterflies)
- Finding it difficult to relax or unwind
- Overreacting to situations
- Comfort food snacking or loss of appetite

If you are experiencing one, many, or all of these signs, you need to do something about it to help you handle the demands you face. The following tips could help.

Set the tone for your day - Take a few moments at the start of your day to set some good intentions and to collect your thoughts. It may sound like a no-brainer but it will give you a moment to pause before jumping into your busy day.

Create a schedule – Make a schedule or timetable for your day. For example, 8 – 8:30 am could be for wake up routine (shower, breakfast, etc.); 8:30 - 9:30 am could be for study; 9:30 - 9:45 am could be for a short walk or break. Creating a schedule and allocating periods to study will help increase the chances of using your time effectively.

Divide your day up – Divvy your day into manageable study blocks (try 40 - 50 minute blocks to begin with and slowly build) and stick to them. Set yourself goals on what you want to complete in that time, then have a break well away from your desk.

Take a break (maybe even eat a Kit Kat!) – Sitting down to study 24/7 in the lead up to exams will wreck you long before D-day. It may be chilly outside but there are huge benefits to getting a breath of fresh air to break up your study time. It will do wonders for your motivation and creativity.
Turn your phone off in study period – Mobile phones are an unhelpful distraction, so during your allocated study time, turn it off so you can focus on your work. The distraction of the phone can cause further stress.

Eat for your brain – Eat nutritious, little and often to avoid food comas. Go for quality food like vegetables, fruit, nuts and wholemeal bread to stimulate your brain and set yourself up for success.

Use your nerves, don’t let them use you – It may not feel like it at the time however positive nerves can actually be a good thing. They help you to work and think faster while being more effective with your time and overall performance.

Shake it off – Sometimes when you feel like your head is about to explode all you need to do is let off some steam. Do whatever will make you feel at ease, whether that’s a workout at the gym, making a nutritious meal, listening to some music, sitting in the sun. Whatever it takes, give yourself the time to shake the negativity and get back on task.

Warn your loved ones – Let your family and friends know what is going on as we often take our stress out on those that are the closest to us. This is the time when you need to be surrounded by support, not thinking about trivial disagreements.

Prioritise your study – It may sometimes feel that everyone wants a piece of your time (school, work, coach, friends, family) but where you can, try to explain your situation so you can put your study first and make plans for your other commitments after exams are over.
